Notice Relating to the Change of the Scope of Kyocera's ISO 9001 Certification Registration

In connection with the January 8, 2021, disclosure of the inappropriate listing of certain Kyocera chemical products as having received certification from a third-party organization, Kyocera Corporation (hereinafter, "Kyocera") hereby announces that it received a notification from the Japan Quality Assurance Organization (hereinafter, "JQA") stating that, as of July 16, 2021, JQA will change the scope of registration for Kyocera's ISO 9001* certification as outlined below.

Kyocera takes seriously this change of the scope of our ISO 9001 registration. We will faithfully implement the corrective actions and measures described in the appendix of "Notice Relating to Results of Investigation into Inappropriate Acquisition of Certification from Third-Party Organization for Certain Chemical Products" disclosed on May 14, 2021, and we will make efforts to reacquire this certificate as early as possible.

* An international standard for quality control.

- Certificate Number: JMI-0036
- Fukushima Koriyama Plant, Kawasaki Plant, and Tochigi Moka Office are excluded from the scope of the registration.
- Epoxy resin molding materials (encapsulants), phenolic molding materials, insulating varnish, casting resin, premix molding materials, electrically conductive paste, and liquid resin are excluded from the scope of the registration.
